Welcome to the third edition of the Without Walls (WOW) Festival!

This year the city takes center stage.

This WOW Festival celebrates work created by extraordinary artists from around the globe and offers San Diegans vibrant and transformative theatre experiences that take place from the waterfront to greater Logan Heights. From intimate tours to large-scale installations; from hip-hop dance parties to fun activities for the whole family, the festival is a chance to see the city anew.

We invite you to explore the WOW Festival, whether for one performance or for all fifteen! Start your day at the San Diego Public Library or The New Children's Museum, make your way around downtown to the free performance installation Model Home at Horton Plaza Park, and end the night at Bread & Salt where the WOW Festival Club will become an after-hours gathering spot for audiences and artists to enjoy free performances, light bites, local craft beer and dance the night away.

We invite you to experience the city like never before through the eyes of these incredible WOW artists.

About La Jolla Playhouse

La Jolla Playhouse has long been known as an incubator for new plays and musicals. Productions such as the Tony Award-winning Jersey Boys, Memphis, and Come From Away – for which Playhouse Artistic Director Christopher Ashley won the 2017 Tony Award for Best Director of a Musical – all had their world premieres at the Playhouse. San Diegans had the opportunity to see these amazing works first and provide feedback crucial to the new play development process. Since 1983, more than 30 Playhouse-born productions have gone on to continued life on Broadway. This track record, along with such signature programs as Without Walls, have made La Jolla Playhouse the place to look for what's next in American theatre.

About Without Walls

Over the last eight years, the Playhouse's Without Walls (WOW) program has become one of the city's most popular and acclaimed performance series, offering patrons the chance to experience immersive and site-inspired pieces in unique locations all around the San Diego community. Past WOW productions include Susurrus (2010) at the San Diego Botanic Garden, The Car Plays: San Diego (2011) in the Playhouse parking lot, Sam Bendrix at the Bon Soir (2012) at Martini's Above Fourth, Accomplice: San Diego (2013) in Little Italy, El Henry (2014) at SILO in Makers Quarter, The Grift at the Lafayette Hotel (2015) in North Park, The Bitter Game (2016) in Southeast San Diego, as well as the biennial WOW Festival.
